

Lessons of life

Taija Paju

Pease bransle

Arbeau Orchésographie, 1588

This is how life works I have heard the wise men say: Joy is for hea - ven and for the pain there is hell. But the life is too short to think a - bout e - ter - ni - ty, so take a chance with a la - dy, if you're luck - y, she won't flee! This is how life works I have heard the wise men say: to make a liv - ing you work un - til your back breaks.

But the life is too short to waste in on pure dru - dge - ry, so take your fun where you find it and let the to - mor - row be. This is how life works I have heard the wise men say:

good girls don't flirt, they are mo - dest and they are chaste. But the life is too short to live like in a nun - ne - ry, so when I find a man I like, I make sure he likes me!